RUBBER GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION FOR MECHANICAL AND PERSONAL USE, AT WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

Philadelphia, March 14th, 1888.

Mint of the United States,

Hon. D. M. Fox, Superintendent,

Dear Sir: -

We used to hear from you occasionally with orders for goods, or with inquiries for prices. For a long time past we have heard nothing from you, and we write to inform you that we are still in business, that our facilities for doing business are equal to, if not superior to what they ever were before, and we would like to be remembered by you when dispensing your favors. We guarantee our goods to be equal to those of any other house in our line, and we are willing to leave the matter of prices with yourself. We will give you goods equal to anybody's for less money, or better for the same money. We know you are buying goods right along, and we would like to have you get our prices and samples before placing your next order. We are on the telephone exchange, and can call on you any time you call us up. We would like opportunity to bid on supplies when you are again receiving proposals.

Philadelphia, January 2d, 1888.

MR. HARRY L. WISTER is this day admitted to an interest in the Rubber Goods business of

M. L. SNYDER & CO.

son-in-law of our Mr. Snyder, shown his son-in-law's firm.

Your's,

M. L. Snyder & Co.
